GENERAL INFORMATION

Americans with Disabilities Act

HOPA is committed to providing an event that allows all attendees to wholly participate. Our team works with the facilities (including the hotels and convention center) and vendors to ensure accessibility in terms of mobility, dietary needs, and participation. Please reach out to the HOPA team directly at events@hoparx.org to discuss any accommodations that you may require to ensure your full engagement. You can also visit us on-site at the Registration Desk during the event.

Privacy Statement

The Hematology/Oncology Pharmacy Association (HOPA) has a strong commitment to privacy, recognizing that we are a public association. HOPA's Privacy Statement outlines the policies and procedures concerning information gathering and dissemination practices for our organization. This privacy statement can be found on the HOPA website: https://www.hoparx.org/about-us/hopa-policies-disclaimers. If you have any questions, please contact HOPA at events@hoparx.org.

Photography & Video Recording Policy

HOPA employs the services of a professional photo/videographer at our event to capture images and audiovisual (AV) recordings for use in archival and promotional material. Your attendance at HOPA events implies your permission for images and an AV recording captured to be used for the purposes of HOPA archival, promotional, and publication materials, and waives your rights for compensation or ownership of these images.

Organization Names and Logos

The HOPA name, logo, and acronym may not be used in any mailing pieces, signs, advertising, or promotions in any media, either inside or outside of the meeting hotel, before, during, or after the meeting without prior review and approval by HOPA. For more information or to seek permission, please contact info@hoparx.org.

Embargo Policy

HOPA's embargo policy states that coverage of abstracts being presented at the Annual Conference is strictly prohibited until 2 weeks before the conference. Content that is prepublished online, in advance of print publication, is still subject to HOPA's embargo policy.

Anti-Harassment Policy

HOPA is committed to a welcoming environment for all participants in its events and users of its resources. All participants and users are required to conduct themselves in a professional manner while attending HOPA events and while using HOPA resources. Any participants who engage in inappropriate behavior at HOPA events, either virtual or in-person, or while using HOPA resources may be excluded from current or future events and resources and other discipline may be applied. Complaints about inappropriate behavior may be directed to the HOPA Executive Director and/or the HOPA President. If you feel personally unsafe at a live HOPA event, please contact building security or the local police immediately as well as contacting the HOPA Executive Director and/or HOPA President at HOPAExecOffice@hoparx.org.

Access, Representation, & Opportunity

HOPA's decision for the location and venue of our meetings does not equate to an endorsement of the actions and opinions of the host state, city, or their politicians or candidates.

As an association whose vision is for all people undergoing cancer treatment to receive the best care possible, we are committed to safety and inclusion for our members and conference participants.

You are welcome at HOPA regardless of race, ethnicity, age, ability, gender, orientation, religious beliefs, or political affiliations. We are committed to creating an environment for sharing knowledge, learning, and networking that is safe and comfortable.

For more information, please read the HOPA Statement on Access, Representation, and Opportunity.

Publication of Proceedings

Publishing (in either print or electronic media) the description of, or information about, any session held at HOPA Annual Conference 2027 is not permitted unless and until it has been reviewed and approved by HOPA. Note that HOPA retains all publication rights to descriptions of, and proceedings from, this conference, including the right to refuse any entities permission to publish such materials, as HOPA sees fit.

Unauthorized Solicitation Policy

Also referred to as "suitcasing" or "outboarding"*

Solicitation of business on the trade show floor, in or near session rooms, or in any other public space associated with the event is strictly prohibited. Prohibited conduct includes:

- Distributing marketing materials, literature, samples, or promotional items
- Collecting leads, taking orders, or otherwise soliciting business
- Hosting meetings, demonstrations, or gatherings intended to generate business during event hours
- Representing a company's products or services to attendees in aisles, session rooms, food/beverage areas, or other common areas

These restrictions apply to all attendees, to non-exhibiting companies, any individual not registered as an exhibitor for the current event, and to exhibiting companies or symposia providers operating outside the boundaries of their assigned space (booth or room, respectively).

Unauthorized Solicitation Policy (cont'd)

Why This Policy Exists

Exhibitors invest in this event by contracting booth space, and that investment supports the content, programming, and experience we're able to offer attendees. When companies solicit business without that investment, it undermines the value exhibitors receive and the integrity of the show. We take this seriously and actively monitor for violations.

Reporting

If you observe a violation of this policy, please report it to Show Management on-site or contact us directly. We rely on exhibitors and attendees to help us maintain a fair and professional environment for everyone. Thank you!
